ABOUT GREEN RIVER COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Green River Community College is a two-year public college that offers degrees and certificates in academic and professional and technical programs, as well as courses in continuing education and basic skills. Its roots stretch back to 1945, when the Auburn School District started an adult education evening program. Local committees began working to secure state approval to start a community college in 1959. In 1963, the determination of local citizens paid off when the State Board of Education approved the community college.

The College's professional and technical program began in September 1964 at a location near the Auburn Boeing plant. A year later, Green River Community College opened its doors at its present location on Lea Hill, east of Auburn. With increasing demand for higher education, Green River has opened satellite campuses in Kent and Enumclaw. The College's service area is defined as District 10 by the 1967 Washington State Legislature and is governed by a five-member board of trustees. Financial support comes from state appropriations and student tuition.

A core of about 146 full-time and 242 part-time faculty members teach daytime and evening classes. The student population is approximately 10,000—both full-time and part-time students—and features a growing diversity of ages and ethnic backgrounds.
