

COMMON COURSE NUMBERING CROSSWALK

Note: This list includes common course numbering and other related course changes such as collisions and department/division prefix changes.

Green River course numbers are changing. Make sure you don't take the same class twice.

Common Course Numbering (CCN) is a new program that makes commonly shared courses among Washington community and technical colleges have the same course number and title.

Recently, faculty from Washington state community and technical colleges have met to discuss the similarities in courses, and their course content. These courses, once identified, were then given the same course numbers and titles. For those students who transfer courses from one Washington state community college to another, this will make that translation for coursework much easier. These courses are identified by an “&”

within the department abbreviation. For example: PSYCH 100 now becomes PSYC& 100.

If you have taken Green River courses with the previous numbers, your transferability will not be affected. These courses will transfer just as they would before.

If a course is not labeled as a common course, it does not mean that transferability is limited. The course will be considered as transferable using the same course content requirements as before. It is always important that you check the course descriptions at www.greenriver.edu/catalog/courses/default.aspx for all course transferability information.

Green River renamed and renumbered 265 courses during the CCN project. Be careful that you do not take the same course twice.

Contact your advisor or visit our web site for more information.
