

Nursing & Healthcare Studies Certificate Programs: Get Started

A simple guide to applying, registering, and getting ready for your first day.

1

Apply to Green River College

Quick note: Apply to the College at greenriver.edu/applynow.

2

Apply to Your Certificate Program

Go to greenriver.edu/nhs, click on your intended program, and complete the online certificate application that is located on the program's webpage.

Quick note: Submitting a program application does not register you for classes.

3

Check Your Student Email

Applications are typically processed within 48 business hours. Your next-steps email will include registration instructions, required courses, textbooks, supplies, and program requirements.

Quick note: Check your Green River inbox regularly.

4

Register for Classes

Enroll in the courses listed in your next-steps email. Classes remain open until filled. All NRS A 103 and NRS A 105 courses are linked together, and must be registered together.

Quick note: Follow the program course sequence shown on page 2. If a class is full, follow guidance on page 2.

5

Attend Class

Registration & Course Guide

What to do when classes are full, plus the required course sequence for each certificate.

WHAT IF CLASSES ARE FULL?

PHLEBOTOMY & EKG TECH

If a required class is full, add yourself to the waitlist when one is available.

If you are not enrolled from the waitlist by the first day of the quarter, attend classes and ask the instructors whether space may be available. If space is not available, you will need to attempt the program in a later quarter.

NURSING ASSISTANT & ER TECH

Because of system limitations, waitlists are not available for Nursing Assistant courses.

Check ctcLink regularly for an opening. You may also attend classes on the first day and ask the instructor whether space is available. If space is not available, you will need to attempt the program in a later quarter.

REQUIRED COURSE SEQUENCES & WINTER SCHEDULE

All courses must be taken according to the program's degree plan. Register for the courses and sections provided in your next-steps email. The schedule is subject to change.
